4. Use Academic Organization to view all classes that are associated with a department, for example selecting “Art” will return classes in ART and ART& (CCN). Note that all courses without the & will be listed first, then those with the & will be listed after, regardless of the catalog (course) number. Note in the example below, ART& 100 is listed AFTER ART 242 in the search results.

What are CCN courses? Common course numbered (CCN) courses allow for easier transfer between colleges and are noted by an “&” after the department name.

 Class Notes: For an independent study, the student is required to identify and work directly with an instructor who teaches the subject the student wishes to take. An instructor must agree to work with the student. Once the student has identified an instructor who is willing to work with them, the student and instructor fill out an independent study contract that lists what the student will be studying, how often the student and instructor will meet, credits to be awarded, and how the student's grade for the independent study will be calculated. The independent study contract can be obtained from the Division Office (BE4128). The Dean will then review the completed contract and decide whether to approve it. Throughout the independent study, the student will work directly with the supervising instructor.
